Kentucky Windage

(By P. W.)

For once, I think we got a pretty good estimate of the number of people who saw the Saturday Festival parade.

Offhand estimates have ranged from 10,000 to 12,000, but Ken Winston and I say at least 30,000.

While the parade was in progress, I spied Winston riding in it, asked him for an offhand estimate, and he told me he would try to get me an accurate one.

The parade was a mile long, and that's 5,280 feet on each side of the street, or 10,560 feet counting both. Ken pointed out that people were standing shoulder to shoulder along the parade route, and if you figure them one foot apart, that would be 10,560 people if they were just one-deep. But Ken figured that they averaged over three-deep, maybe four deep the entire length of the parade, cross-streets and all.

So Ken figured probably 40,000, and guarantees at least 30,000. We'll settle for 30,000, and consider it a conservative figure. Wouldn't you?

The parade, incidentally, with 70 units, was the largest ever, and for that you can give Ken and the Lions Club the credit. They all did a fine job.

The Eighth Banana Festival has come and gone. A lot of people attended its various functions, but a lot more didn't. A lot of people thoroughly enjoyed the Festival activities they attended, and a lot expressed disappointment. Some of the Festival events were well-planned, well organized and well attended; others were haphazardly organized, poorly attended and would better have not been scheduled at all.

Nobody worked harder than did Festival President Dub Burnette, and the same is true of every president the Festival has had during its eight years. And, following the pattern of his predecessors, nobody suffered more agonies, more frustrations, more headache than did the Festival President . . . and no one deserved them less.

Jo's Notebook

Many of the Fulton News readers have told me that they miss my column in the old familiar spot. I miss writing it too! I promised myself that I was going to make every effort to contribute on a regular basis.

I particularly like the comment from the lady who said that oftentimes she reads my column with unabated fury, but she missed it just the same.

For the eighth consecutive year we've survived another Banana Festival. Unfortunately, I was unable to do as much as I wanted to, and felt badly about it since my good friend Dub Burnette was president and perhaps needed all the loyal support that he has always given every president who ever served the Festival, and that includes me.

It is unfortunate too that poor Dub seemed to have encountered far more, many, many more problems than all the presidents put together. And it is a sad commentary on all those problems that at least two-thirds of them could have been avoided if he had had the complete support and cooperation from so many of the home-folks who simply didn't lift a hand to help him, as they should have and could have.

The other one-third of the problems certainly could have been avoided by more efficient organization from the "back-up crew." Nobody knows better than a person who has headed the massive Banana Festival organization of the erroneous impressions that accrue, when some important, though minor detail, is overlooked in the planning and execution of every program.

Let's take for instance the misunderstandings prevailing among many of Lt. Gov. Wendell Ford's friends regarding the seating arrangement at the Governor's luncheon. This business of protocol is a never-ending problem among the most highly specialized experts in the field, so it isn't difficult to un-

Citizens Are Invited To Discuss Roads

The week of September 20-27 has been designated as National Highway Week by President Nixon and the same week has been designated as Kentucky Highway Week by Governor Nunn.

In keeping with this special observance, Open House activities are being held in each of the twelve Highway District Offices in the state. The citizens of the state are being invited to visit the District Office in their area during Highway Week. They will have an opportunity to see the facilities and to learn of the operations and functions that are the backbone of the building and maintaining our vast road and highway system in the Commonwealth. They will also meet the professional personnel who work in the various divisions of planning and programming, design, right-of-way, construction, maintenance, and traffic control.

It will also provide an occasion for individuals and groups to discuss their particular road and traffic problems with their highway personnel. A representative of the new Commissioner, B. E. King, from the Central Office in Frankfort, will be present at each District Open House who can also be of help to people attending.

This is the 50th Anniversary of the Kentucky Department of Highways and much of the progress of the period, both in modes of construction and in transportation, will be shown by displays and literature that will be distributed to the visitors at the Open House.

Smalling Ordination Is Sept. 16

Reverend Bill Smalling, pastor of the South Fulton United Methodist Church, will be ordained an "elder" on Wednesday evening, September 16th, at the church at 7:30 p.m.

Bishop H. E. Finger, Jr., resident bishop of the Nashville Area of the United Methodist Church, will direct the ordination service. Rev. James A. Smalling, father of Bill Smalling, will also help during his ordination.

The United Methodist Church requires that a man must begin his preparation for the ministry by passing an examination which will give him a license to preach, after he has had four years of college he can apply for "deacon," and finally after two more years of seminary and a trial year served in a local parish, the candidate can be ordained "elder."

The public is cordially invited to attend and share this important occasion with Brother Smalling.

HELP THE KIDS!

The Juniors of South Fulton High School are selling magazine subscriptions to make money for their annual Homecoming Dance; so let's everyone buy a magazine and help the kids have a dance to remember.

CONGRATULATIONS

Eddie Dowdy, a student at Lubbock Christian College, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Dowdy of South Fulton, has been chosen as a member of the Meistersinger Chorus group at the College.

CHANGE OF DATE

The Fulton Homemakers Club has extended its regular meeting to September 17, and all members and visitors are urged to attend, and also to view their display at the Fulton Hardware on Lake Street.

RUMMAGE SALE

The Tri-County Homemakers Club will sponsor a rummage sale September 19, from 9:00 a. m. until 3:00 p. m., at the old G and H Furniture Store Building. Any donations would be appreciated.

THE NEW INTERNATIONAL BANANA FESTIVAL PRINCESS, Eleanor Susan Gordon was selected from a field of 18 contestants from seven states. Eleanor Susan, age twenty, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Gordon of Rock Hill, S. C. Her titles include South Carolina Watermelon Queen-1970, Miss Rock Hill-1970, Miss Southern 500-1970, Miss South Carolina World-1970 and was a contestant for the Clemson Homecoming Court. For the past three years she has been Water Safety instructor and life guard at the Rock Hill Country Club. Eleanor will be a junior at the University of North Carolina.

Fulton May Annex State Line Sites

The City Commissioners of Fulton met in regular session Monday evening, September 14th, at 7:30 p.m.

The reading of the minutes of the August 25th meeting were read and approved.

Among the matters discussed were: the receiving and filing of the judge's report for the month of August; the receiving and filing of the budget report for the month of August, and the approval of the vouchers.

There was a lengthy discussion on former City Manager, Sturmer Mackey's proposal for the City to extend water and sewer lines to the Welcome Center on the Parkway and provide the incentive for growth and development in the general area without encumbering City funds for a large cash outlay.

Because the project site is located outside the city limits, it may be necessary for the City to annex the area in question.

A general discussion followed and the motion was made to accept said project with the intent of annexation. City Attorney James Warren was instructed to draw up the necessary documents.

Mayor Tripp presented an application for an Action Grant to the Kentucky Crime Commission. It is a request for allocation of funds to replace and upgrade the Police Department's communications equipment.

The total estimated cost is $9,600. The city's share would be $3,800, and the application for the grant is a total of $5,800. The application and resolution were approved.

Mayor Tripp was appointed acting City Manager, by a motion made by Commissioner Hales and seconded by Commissioner Bennett. All of the commissioners voted yes, Mayor Tripp abstaining.

There being no other business to discuss the meeting was adjourned.

Joffrey II Dancers Get Superb Review In Louisville

(Ed's Note: The Joffrey II Dancers, the outstanding group that appeared in concert here for the Banana Festival on Thursday night left on Friday to open the season for the Louisville Dance Council. The following review, by the Louisville Courier-Journal's drama critic is evidence that the local people who did not attend the performance missed a rare treat of entertainment. The Joffrey Dancers were brought here under the auspices of the Kentucky Arts Commission.)

The program consisted of four ballets—"Pas Des Deesses," "Ronde Champetre," "The Still Point" and "Facade." All of them are by contemporary choreographers, and all but "Facade" are relatively newcomers to the ballet repertory. Taken as a whole they embrace diversified styles and make a diverting program.

Of the four, it seemed to me that the most original, and the one most likely to stay around for a long, long time, is Joffrey's "Pas Des Deesses." Joffrey's main company dances it frequently, and probably with more elan and technical security. But the four young people who performed it Saturday night made of it a winning work.

The four characters in "Pas Des Deesses" represent famous dancers of the 19th Century—Lucile Grahn, Fanny Cerrito, Marie Taglioni, and Arthur Saint-Leon. Joffrey imagines an occasion when they share the spotlight together, doing their tricks and wooing their audiences to some lovely piano pieces by John Field.

Comic Touches

There are subtle comic touches as the dancers vie with one another for the affections of their public. But this is not a broad spoof, in the manner of Anthony Tudor's "Gala Performance." Joffrey treats them affectionately, recreating the romantic past with delicate style.

Of the four dancers who performed "Pas Des Deesses" Saturday night, a young enchantress named Christine Uchida quickly became an audience favorite. She is a beautiful girl, with a radiant smile, and she has a breathtaking way of making each technical feat she performs seem like a daring risk of her limbs. She defies gravity as if born to fly, and she is irresistible.

Also charming were Louise Dore and Aina Bilkins. David Loring seemed tireless in the exhausting role of partner to all three of them. "Ronde Champetre," danced to some piano pieces by Chabrier, has choreography by Jonathan Watts. It is slight but beguiling. Todd Bolender's "The Still Point" is sterner stuff, although its subject matter—a young girl leaving adolescence to take a first step toward sexual maturity—flirts with banality.

That it seemed fresh rather than laden with clichés Saturday night was due to the dramatic insights with which Bolender invests his choreography, the skillful use he makes of three movements from Debussy's String Quartet for musical underpinning, and the strong performance of Aina Bilkins as the girl trembling

Colorful Festival Parade Is Seen By An Estimated 30,000

An estimated 30,000 joyous visitors came to the Twin Cities Saturday, September 14th, to see one of the most colorful International Banana parades in the history of the Festival. K. M. Winston, who served as parade marshal for three times, this being his second consecutive year, feels that the parade was very successful.

The parade route was an even mile in length, with both sides of the street measuring 15,580 feet. As he followed the last unit down the route, he estimated the visitors from 3 to 5 deep all the way from South Fulton Schools to Klods Corner. The parade is apparently what all like about a Festival, as they show this by their presence.

Winning Bands: 1st, AAA Lone Oak, 2nd, AAA Milan, 3rd, AAA Union City; 1st, AA

Martin, 2nd, AA Lake County, 3rd, AA Central City; Best Majorette Line, Central City; Best Majorette, Martin High; Best Major, Lone Oak.

Winning Drill Units: 1st, Westwood (Memphis), 2nd, Greenfield Jactets, 3rd, Sheffield Royalties.

Winning Floats: 1st, Professional - City National Bank, 2nd, Professional - Fulton Bank, 3rd, Ferry-Morse; 1st, Non Professional - South Fulton PTA, 2nd, Non Professional

- Welcome Wagon, 3rd, N Professional - TA's.

The parade was led by the Police of Kentucky and Tennessee, followed by the Mayors and other dignitaries. Several political candidates were present. Candidate for Tennessee Governor, John J. Hooker, rode in a convertible driven by C. D. Jones. Also appearing in a convertible was a car load of Brock Girls, driven by David Winston, Miss Dairy Princess, Miss Angus Queen, Miss Paper Doll (Nat'l), Miss Teen-Age America, Miss Rhododendron Queen, the Banana Festival Queen, as well as many other beauties riding convertibles and floats. The Amigos and the Mexican Band also lend color, as well as Bill Gray and his donkey.

More than 70 units paraded, consisting of 20 high school bands, the USA Army Band, U. S. Marine Band, the U. S. Naval Band, 14, professional floats, 4 non professional floats, some half dozen odd floats, drill units and other units. Shrine units from Sikeston, Madisonville, Princeton, Jackson, Murray, Hopkinsville, Paducah, and other places added color with their clown, music, cycle and horse teams, which was arranged by Bruce Wilson.

The parade is sponsored by the Fulton Lions Club and the parade Marshall wishes to pay special thanks for all the work on Saturday morning: Glen Veneklasen, John Sullivan, Joe Treas, Win Whitnel, George Brock, Wendal Butts, James Butts, Gerald Stow, Shelton Owens, Kenneth Crews, Ernest Fall, David Homra, M. R. Jeffers, Ron Laird, and James Cullum. Any left out on this list who helped need thanks too.

Special note and praise should be accorded Lion, Ome Theme, who arranged for the beautiful floats, and also Lion Raymond Adams, both whom were up at daybreak lining up floats. Charles Walker, and his Boy Scout Troop need a hand for all their efforts in helping move and park all busses.

CONVENTION

Prominent physicians from Kentucky and throughout the country will speak on timely medical topics at the 1970 Annual Meeting of the Kentucky Medical Association. The Meeting will be held September 22, 23 and 24 at Convention Center, Louisville.

MISS CONGENIALITY

The twin cities Banana Festival Princess, Miss Debbie May of Remington, Indiana, won the "Miss Congeniality" award at the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, Saturday night.

FHS Homecoming Queen Candidates Are Named

The football players at Fulton High School have recently selected the candidates for their 1970 Homecoming Queen. The class selling the most magazines will be able to elect their candidate as queen to reign over the Homecoming festivities at the Fort Campbell game.

The lucky girls chosen were: Mary Ann Crutchfield, candidate for the 9th grade; and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Crutchfield; Donna Sensing, daughter of Mrs. Don Sensing, candidate for the 10th grade; Cindy Craven, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Craven, candidate for the 11th grade, and Kathy Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Wheeler, 12th grade candidate.

Each class is selling magazines to make money, so support your favorite candidate by buying a magazine from her class, in order to make her Homecoming Queen.

Shall The World's Most Powerful Nation Kow-Tow To A Bunch Of Ragged Hijackers?

Airplane hijackings have reached such an absurd plateau that the time may, hopefully, soon arrive that people will conclude it's much better to stay at home.

Hijackings, which began originally as acts of the mentally deranged, developed into deliberate acts of international escape, with Cuba the principal point of diversion in this hemisphere. Apparently, from the number of hijackings that ensued, it got to be a little game that was played quite regularly, to nobody's apparent alarm.

By 1969 a hijacking to Cuba was so commonplace that a lot of the diversions weren't even carried on newscasts. "Ho-Hum, another plane's been hijacked" sort of because an offhand remark that newscasters mentioned as a time filler at the end of the newscast, or the papers carried to fill up the bottom of the page.

But like the campus protest, which had been permitted to expend itself rather freely until it got to the destructive stage, hijacking has also grown in numbers, venom and irritation. It has become an international sort of thing, with international guerrilla forces involved, and with consequences that may put whole nations at each other's throats if it isn't dealt with in a decisive manner, and now.

When Ali Baba and his forty thieves can take over an American plane as common pirates, hold 180 people at gunpoint and demand as their release the freedom for such as the killer of the late Robert Kennedy, we think it is past time for this nation to let one and all know that we have the power to put a stop to this asinine activity. We think it is time for us to dispatch armed aircraft to the scene and have a quick little war, right then and there.

We believe that the American public is tired of seeing such things go unchallenged and without direct and prompt rebuttal.

We think that a prompt and decisive show of force, when the occasion demands it, is the main lesson that all the world understands and abides by; at no time in recent years did our country demonstrate that lesson as well as did the late President John F. Kennedy, in the Cuban missile crisis, when he quickly threw a naval blockade around Cuba to prevent Soviet ships from getting supplies to that threatening country.

RY. WINDAGE—

Shall we try for a Ninth?
If we try for a Ninth, is there someone in our twin communities willing to volunteer for the job of President?

The job will require a good business head, a sharp eye to details, a willingness to work hard to get a good organization, some practical experience in what has gone on before, and one more thing. And I believe that this last thing is the key to the whole pattern for a possible Ninth Festival: the positive and unwavering determination to cut OUT of the agenda some activities that consumed a lot of manpower and energy and may have been cultural pinnacles but were financial and attendance flops.

Of the Festival activities that I was able to attend, I thought that the country & western show, the parade, the princess pageant and the printed festival program were the best.

I thought that the "alleged" jazz concert, the evening late-hour dances the worst; the Mariachi "band" the most disappointing, and the Friday afternoon International Relations program the most unfortunate, seeing as how the stage was full but the tent practically empty.

The Amigo program, as always, was and is real adventure in international relations, and as long as there is any semblance of a Festival it should be continued.

The Festival, if it is to continue, is going to need some honest, hard-headed, drastic revising. There is simply not available, intelligent manpower in these two communities to handle twenty-three major undertakings (count 'em!) in four days, and do all twenty-three well. We cannot advertise far and wide for visitors and honored guests to come to a Festival that doesn't show good overall organization, good planning and first-rate and well-attended programs.

And, try as hard as he or she can, the Festival President cannot personally manage even ONE of these twenty-three or more major undertakings; that's the job of the respective committeeman in charge of each undertaking. Some did their job well; others failed miserably and should never have accepted their jobs.

I was, as I mentioned in this corner last week, most interested in the forthcoming Mariachi Band and the Dixieland jazz concert, hoping they would excel even the Marimba band and the fine Lionel Hampton concert of last year. Boy, was I disappointed. In kindness to whoever hired them, I would assume that neither had ever been heard before.

The 5-piece Mariachi band turned out to be a cocktail-party type of entertainment that one could pleasantly listen to for an hour or so providing drinks were being served as a diversion. For dancing they were a total loss; for any kind of public entertainment they were hopeless. On top of that, they dropped down to 4 pieces after the first day; one of the trumpet players disappeared.

The dixieland band from Memphis is another that didn't win any popularity vote with either a listening crowd or a dancing crowd, and about the only thing they had in common with the Lionel Hampton band was that both bands sat in chairs. Even if they were free, they shouldn't have been on the program.

Festivals grow in stature, or they decline. And when they decline, the job of rebuilding them and restoring public enthusiasm is not easy, although it can be done.

Such is the thought to contemplate in looking to the fall of 1971.

POET'S CORNER

BE THE BEST OF WHATEVER YOU ARE

If you can't be a pine on the top of the hill,
Be a scrub in the valley-but be
The best little scrub by the side of the rill;
Be a bush if you can't be a tree.
If you can't be a bush be a bit of the grass,
And some highway happier make;
If you can't be a muskie then just be a bass-
But the liveliest bass in the lake!
We can't all be captains, we got to be crew,
There's something for all of us here,
There's big work to do, and there's lesser to do,
And the task you must do is near.
If you can't be a highway then just be a trail,
If you can't be the sun be a star;
It isn't by size that you win or you fail-
Be the best of whatever you are!

DYNASTY OF DEATH, by Taylor Caldwell. This is a big novel, with many characters and a great deal of drama. It tells the story of two American families who built a small firearms business into a great munitions empire during the 19th century. Their conflicts among themselves and with others, their loves, hates, and above all, the ruthless ambitions of some of them is a story that offers a fascinating glimpse into the heart and mind of long-ago America.

GREAT ADVENTURES OF THE OLD WEST, by American Heritage. The pre-Civil War nineteenth century meant bustles and bows, elegant silver tea services, and political palaver for part of the United States. It meant something very different to a restless cross section of men and women for whom the eastern part of the nation had become synonymous with lack of opportunity, loss of religious freedom, crowded cities, land and influence in the hands of a wealthy minority. From these discontents sprang the exodus that peopled two-thirds of a nation. The pioneers spread westward, a few at a time at first

Grass Roots

By Roy Stevens

Here I am, almost 30 years old.

My 30th birthday, soon to arrive, could, if I took seriously some of the things I've read and heard, be a disastrous experience.

After all, Number 30 is supposed to signal the transition from the idolized, all-knowing world of the young to the "reactionary, dreary, uninformed" world of the old.

I have been advised by no less authority than a high school junior that all people under 30 know where it's at. And that all over 30 definitely are not there.

Besides, my 30th birthday may involve burning bridges I can't come back across. It could mean I will not in the future, as I have not in the past, be able to indulge myself in those contemporary, idealistic pursuits of that minority among us called "radical youth."

For example, when I was a child I had the weird idea that parents were to be respected, hardly and adventurous men who were explorers and trappers and traders. The hazards of the trip are sketchily familiar; hostile Indians; freezing winters and parching deserts; cannibalism among starving seekers for routes to the Pacific Coast; grasshopper plagues. All this will give you a lively look at the days when the question of where your next meal was coming from.

ZELDA, by Nancy Milford. There was a curious streak of recklessness in Zelda Sayre when she was a child. As she grew up, her escapades became the scandal of her hometown of Montgomery, Alabama. But she was a beauty and her father was a respected judge. Witty, indulged, capricious, she thoroughly enjoyed exercising the prerogatives of a belle. When she married F. Scott Fitzgerald in 1920 after a stormy two-year courtship, her life seemed the natural extension of Montgomery existence, played on a larger stage. She and Scott moved in a golden aura of excitement, romance and promise. The epitome of and looked to for guidance. I didn't know then, as some children seem to know now, that parents are to look to their offspring for guidance.

Several other guests were present from out of town, and Vernon received many nice gifts and enjoyed seeing all of his friends and family.

When I went to college it was for the unheard of purpose of getting an education, and now I find I could have used the campus to influence state, national, and international affairs.

When I got married I started working 40 to 50 hours a week to help pay my college expenses, and for some reason that made me appreciate even more the value of the education I was receiving. Being unsophisticated, it never occurred to me to forego marriage and instead join a coeducational commune where I could live out of garbage dumps and at the same time use my vast knowledge to determine what should be done about pollution of Lake Erie.

When I graduated from college seven years ago, I took the unorthodox step of accepting a regular job, when there was the alternative of using my degree to go forth against the establishment, maybe even fire-bombing it into perfection. And now I've worked seven years, trying to feed, clothe and raise a family, without even once carrying a sign or burning the flag, or lying in front of a troop train or wearing beads or fighting National Guardsmen or calling policemen "Pigs."

So, here I am, almost 30 years old.

Not regretting a thing I haven't done.

Not the least bit worried about crossing that imaginary 30-year-old line between the young and old.

A whole lot smarter than I was at 20.

And still anxious to learn.

Young Demos Releases News Of Fund Drive

The Young Democrat College Council today released further details concerning the upcoming barbeque dinner to be held in Hopkinsville on September 26th. The dinner, which will begin at 6:30 p. m. will host all the candidates in the Democratic Primary next May as well as other prominent figures in the Democratic Party. Heading the list of those already accepting invitations to attend are gubernatorial candidates Bert Combs, and Wendell Ford, as well as Lieutenant Governor candidates Henry Beach, John Breckinridge and Julian Carroll. Other public figures planning to attend the dinner are Mary Louise Foust, Thelma Stovall, Drex Davis, Bernard Davis, Katherine Peden, former Governor Ned Breathitt, Congressman Frank A. Stubblefield, as well as other state and local officials. The event is designed to offer the people of Kentucky a chance to personally meet and hear the candidates for public office. Large numbers of Kentuckians from across the Commonwealth are expected to attend the event which will be held at the Convention Center in Hopkinsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Sanders Observe Fiftieth Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Sanders, a well known South Fulton couple, observed their 50th wedding anniversary on Saturday, September 12 at their home, 505 College Street.

No formal observance was held, but the couple had many visitors, and received a number of gifts, cards and phone calls from well-wishers.

Mrs. Sanders is the former Frances Morgan of LaCenter, Ky. They were married in Cairo, Illinois.

Mr. Sanders, one of South Fulton's best known residents has been employed at the Browder Milling Company for the past 39 years. He is a supervisor. Mr. and Mrs. Sanders are members of the First Baptist church and he is a deacon. For the past 13 years he has taught a Sunday School Class on the local radio station at 10:05 a. m. each Sunday morning. He served for four years as Civil Defense Director in South Fulton.

They have three children, Mick Sanders, a salesman for Lovelace-Farmer at Martin; Mrs. Elmer Liliker, South Fulton City Recorder, and Mrs. Tommie Sue Ainley of Duke-Ferry-Morse in Fulton.

Grandchildren are William Sanders, Judy Burgess of Hammond, Ind., and Diane Liliker, South Fulton, Trudy Goodwin of Fulton and a great grandson, Christopher Burgess.

Local Students On Honor Roll At UT, Martin

Honor roll students for the summer quarter at The University of Tennessee at Martin have been announced by Henry C. Allison, dean of admissions and records.

To be listed on the summer quarter honor roll, a student must be enrolled for both sessions or carry at least 12 hours of credit during one session and must earn a point average ranging from 3.0 to 4.0 point maximum system. Students whose grades are from 3.75 to 4.0, inclusive, are passed for the quarter summa cum laude.

Among the students listed on the summer quarter honor roll at UT Martin are the following from South Fulton and Fulton:

South Fulton — Jane Bloodworth, Bonita Burrow Bynum, Teresa J. Fields, Joyce Gail Forehand, Diane Foster, Carmen Sue Gardner, Bonnie Lee McAllister, Sam Ray Miller, Betty Gail Milliken, Pamela Netherland.

KENTUCKY
Fulton — Gary Lynn Barnes, Carolyn A. Dunavant, Kathy Ann Meacham, Mary Jo Butts, (summa cum laude).

Hickman — Cheryl Lynn Meenees.

Wingo — Phyllis Ann Glass.

NEW STAFF MEMBER
A reception was held Sunday night, September 6, at the South Fulton Baptist Church honoring Mr. and Mrs. Bob Winstead, the new assistant to the pastor. A fellowship meal was held following the evening service and each enjoyed the food, and meeting the new minister of music and his lovely family.

Dr. and Mrs. Ken Winston

Miss Huba And Dr. Winston Are Wed In Summer Ceremony

Miss Susan Huba became the bride of Dr. Ken Rose Winston in a summer wedding at the beautiful Whately's Chapel on the campus of Temple Buell College in Denver, Colorado, with Bill Adrian, Assistant to the President of University of Denver officiating.

Families of both, together with their many friends were present. Susan's sister, Marcia Berger of Pittsburgh, Pa., served as matron of honor while, Dr. Doyle Voygt of the U. S. Space Center in Denver served as best man.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Albert Huba of Butler, Pennsylvania and the late Dr. Huba. Mrs. Huba, her son-in-law, Michael Berger, daughter Marcia Berger and granddaughter, Susan Jones, all of Pittsburgh, attended.

Ken is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kendred M. Winston of 507 Vancil, South Fulton. Mr. and Mrs. Winston, together with Penelope, Priscilla and Bob were present.

Susan is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh and received her master's degree from Smith College, Northampton, Massachusetts. Dr. Winston is a graduate of Fulton High School, attended Murray

Jennie Nunn Publicity Shy On U. K. Campus

By SALLY BLY

Lexington, Ky.—Unlike many students, Jennie Lou Nunn seeks to stay out of the spotlight, to reject special attention, preferring the anonymous cloak of "average."

"I'd rather stay just a plain, old student," she said, declining to have more than one campus photograph made of her—and that grudgingly. "I just don't want to be that conspicuous."

Equal Treatment in Class
In classes at the University of Kentucky, that works—she thinks she gets no special treatment; but socially she gets singled out. Whenever she's introduced, someone is sure to ask, "Are you related to the governor?"

After last spring's campus disorders, Gov. Louie B. Nunn, who called the National Guard to the University of Kentucky campus in Lexington, has not been a universally popular man on campus. And his daughter has even considered transferring to an out of state school to avoid notice.

She Seemed Tense

As she sat talking in the lounge of Blanding Tower, where she is a corridor advisor, Miss Nunn seemed more tense and less open than she was when interviewed the night her father won the Republican nomination for governor.

Explaining why she didn't want pictures taken in a classroom, she said, "If you didn't like someone, how would you feel if she came into the room with a photographer going 'Click click'?"

Miss Nunn, a sophomore, was sent home by her father during last spring's confrontation. She said that most fellow students treat her well. But "some of the hippies, if they knew who I was," might give her trouble, she said. "I don't think it's the students so much as the outsiders," she said.

So far she has limited her campus activities to pledging Delta Delta Delta, and to being a corridor advisor in Blanding. She would like to work to improve the concert series—"I was a music major the first semester"—and, naively, to join the Young Republicans. She's majoring in business and office education.

Her brother Stephen, a freshman, who, she said, is even more publicity shy than she, is in prelaw at UK.

When she moves into the Tri-Delt house next semester, Miss Nunn will be living with the daughter of another former governor, Edward T. Breathitt, a Democrat. Miss Nunn said she and Linda Breathitt are "very friendly."

BIRTHDAY!

J. L. Coleman of 7583 Henry Street, Centerline, Mich. 48015, will celebrate his 83rd birthday on September 21 and will appreciate receiving cards from his friends in this area. He is the father of Mrs. Claud Fields, Route 2, Wingo.

GETTING ACQUAINTED: Kathy Slater, freshman, Benton, and Tina Jolley, sophomore, Fulton, get acquainted while participating in the annual sorority Rush Week at Murray State University. More than 130 girls have come to the campus a week early for the purpose of meeting members of the six national sororities on the Murray campus. Rush Week activities will end Saturday, at which time bids will be distributed. (Photo by Wilson Woolley)

Mrs. Hart To Address KWA Area Meeting

Mrs. Jane Hart, author, mother and Director of the Education and Materials Section, Division of Regional Services in the Department of Mental Health since 1968 will speak on "Children With Learning Disabilities" for District I, Kentucky Welfare Association (KWA) dinner meeting at Holiday Inn, Mayfield, Kentucky on September 22 at 6:30 p. m.

Mrs. Hart's daughter Hannah is brain damaged and she had worked extensively with her.

The Executive Committee of District I, Kentucky Welfare Association (KWA) consists of the following: Mrs. Kate Henton, Benton, President; Mrs. Gayle Mullinax, Mayfield, Vice-President; Mrs. Iris Holly, Wickliffe, Secretary; Miss Sibyl Bell, Paducah, Treasurer; Membership: Mrs. Pauline Harris, Murray and Mrs. Margaret Adams, Fulton; Program Committee: Mrs. Lee King, Mayfield, and Miss Cynthia Billingsley, Paducah; Publicity: Mrs. Edna C. Glenn, Paducah.

The public is invited to attend.

Carol Luther Teaching In Hodgenville

Miss Carol Luther, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Luther of Cedar Street in Fulton, has recently received her Master of Science degree in Home Economics education from the University of Kentucky, graduating with a point average of 3.91.

She is now teaching in the home economics department of Larue County High School in Hodgenville, Kentucky.

She came home last weekend to spend some time with her family and friends and to attend the festivities of the Banana Festival.

Maid Of Cotton Contest Seeks Area Entries

Applications are now in order for the 1971 Maid of Cotton title.

The selection is open to girls between 19 and 23 who are at least five feet five inches tall and have never been married. Applicants also must have been born in a cotton-producing state or have lived continuously in the Cotton Belt since the age of seven or earlier.

Application forms may be obtained by writing the Council, 1918 North Parkway, Memphis. Completed applications, along with three photographs, must be returned to the council before Midnight, December 1st.

Twenty finalists will be chosen to compete for the national title in two days of judging in Memphis in late December.

Party Honors Candidate For Miss America

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin D. Stover, daughter Earlean and granddaughter Janet Richardson, of Fulton, arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold A. (Snooky) Mann, on North Parkway in Corinth, Miss., in time for a patio coke party, given in honor of Miss Chris McClamroch, the present Miss Mississippi.

Miss McClamroch has lived in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mann for the past five years, her earlier years being spent in Palmer Orphanage at Columbus, Miss.

Mrs. Mann is the daughter of Mrs. Stover. The Manns have been close friends of Mr. McClamroch and the late Mrs. Irene McClamroch for a number of years. They are making plans to attend the pageant in Atlantic City with the McClamroch family.

In District Dress Revue

Mrs. W. B. Sowell and Mrs. Bert Yarbro, Jr., Fulton County Farm Bureau winners of the women's dress revue will compete in the district contest to be held at the Diplomat Inn in Paducah on September 21.

These garments are constructed and modeled by the participants and made from all wool or all cotton.

The state contest will be held in Louisville in November during the State Farm Bureau convention.

South Fulton Junior High Names Four New Cheerleaders

Four beautiful Jr. Hi. girls were selected as Cheerleaders for the Little Devils for 1970-71. They are: Ginger Gilbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Gilbert; Jennie Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Roberts; Donna Nabors, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Nabors; and Jacqueline Whaley, daughter of Mrs. Patsy Whaley and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Parr. Fourteen girls tried out from the seventh and eighth grades. All Junior High students and teachers balloted with the above results. New uniforms are being made and a lot is being expected from them. Mrs. Linda Barclay is the sponsor.

Ann Landers

— Your Problems Bring Answers —

Dear Ann Landers: It must be great to be either black or white. At least you know what you are. I am an Oriental. The average Negro or Caucasian has no idea of the problems and anxieties suffered by people of the so-called yellow race.

Most blacks think of the Oriental as white. But white people do not consider us their equal. While we have never been pushed to the back of the bus, like another minority race, we have been discriminated against in other ways. The whole color thing in the United States is completely illogical since some Indians have darker skin than many Negroes, but so long as they wear native costumes or have aquiline features they can get in any place.

I am an Oriental boy who moved to a new state and I would like to date a Caucasian girl. Shall I try? I know the racial barriers are breaking down, but I do not wish to offend anyone. Please advise.

— Uncertain

Dear Uncertain: The best way to find out is to ask her. It may be that the girl would like very much to go out with you. But if she says no, don't assume the reason you were turned down is because she is prejudiced against Orientals. One of my favorite stories is the one about the fellow who didn't get the j-j-ob as ar-ad ann-nn-ouncer because he was J-J-J-eish.

Dear Ann Landers: So many parents are concerned about drug abuse these days, and they have a right to be. You can do them a favor by letting them know they can get help by calling their County Mental Health Department.

Most county hospitals have detoxification clinics where patients are physically taken off drugs. If your particular county hospital does NOT have such facilities they can give you the name and number of a place that does. The county hospital can also put callers in touch with organizations that help addicts get free treatment and follow-up counseling. These organizations have staff members trained in first aid and telephone answering. The county pays for this help and there are also volunteers (ex-addicts usually) who donate their time. Through these organizations, addicts can be cured without getting a police record or publicity. They also have a 24-hour crisis phone service. If an addict becomes dangerously ill someone will come for him. If a staff member sees that medical help is needed, a physician will be called immediately.

So many people need help these days and they don't know where to go or who to call. Please tell them. —A Stockton, Calif. Mother And Volunteer

Dear Mother: This office checked your suggestion by calling 12 county hospitals in 12 different states. They ALL had free facilities for drug addicts, including Cook County in Illinois, which was a pleasant surprise. I endorse your suggestion and thank you for writing.

Dear Ann Landers: Am I becoming crochety in my old age? I'm only 52 yet I become increasingly irritated by my fellow workers. I am employed in an office—32 desks in one large room. I'm on an aisle. Several times a day some passer-by drops a paper clip down my dress, jabs my arm with a pencil, lifts a loose hairpin from my head and hands it to me. Just this minute a kid younger than my son pulled my ear. Should I tell everybody "Hands off?" — Mrs. Grrrr

Dear Mrs.: No. The pesky annoyances are in reality expressions of affection. The time to be concerned is when people pass your desk and ignore you.

What awaits you on the other side of the marriage veil? How can you be sure your marriage will work? Read Ann Landers' booklet "Marriage — What To Expect." Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50c in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Methodists Will Ordain First Woman At Gardner

Rev. Mrs. Ora Bell Peck, pastor of Martin Circuit United Methodist Churches in the Paris District, will be ordained elder by Bishop H. E. Finger, Jr. at a special service at Gardner United Methodist Church, west of Martin, on Sunday, September 20, at 7:30 p. m.

The ordination sermon will be preached by Bishop Finger, the resident bishop of the Nashville area of the United Methodist Church, which includes the Memphis Annual Conference. Dr. Wayne A. Lamb, District Superintendent of the Paris District, will preside at the service and participate, along with Rev. D. M. Hilliard of Dyer, Tennessee, in the laying on of hands.

Rev. Mrs. Peck is a native of Paducah, Kentucky and a graduate of Murray State College, Murray, Kentucky. She was received as a full member of the Memphis Annual Conference in June of 1968. She has served the Martin Circuit churches since June, 1969. She had previously served Little Chapel Methodist Church in Paducah, Kentucky, and Columbus Circuit in West Kentucky.

This will be a historic event in the Memphis Annual Conference in that it will be the first time for a woman to receive full ordination as an elder.

Rev. Mrs. Peck

Bishop Finger follows the procedure of a special ordination service for each minister to be ordained elder at either the home church, the church where he or she serves as pastor, or whatever place the candidate selects.

Following the ordination service there will be a reception sponsored by the ladies of the Gardner Church honoring Rev. Mrs. Peck, her husband Rev. Paul Peck, who is pastor of the Ralston Circuit Methodist Churches, and Bishop Finger.

Reverend Bobby Copeland filled his regular appointment at New Salem Baptist Church the past Sunday at 11:00 a. m. At the close of the services there was one addition to the church and the baptizing was in the church baptistry.

News from the bedside of Mr. and Mrs. Chap Johnson, of the Volunteer Hospital at Martin, is that each shows signs of improvement, which all their friends will be glad to hear.

Rev. and Mrs. Dallas Hemphill of Union City and Mr. and Mrs. Merchie Vincent were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Grover True.

Clarence Berryman remains about the same at his home in District No. 1, where he has been confined to his bed for several months. Mrs. Berryman is his nurse and the children also attend his bedside.

Bro. Dennis Crutchfield filled his regular appointment at Knob Creek Church of Christ the past Sunday at 11 a. m. and at the evening worship.

Mrs. Inez Vincent returned to her home near Pilot Oak, Ky., after several days visit with her sister, Mrs. Grover True and Mr. True. She had a nice visit while here.

Mrs. Henry Davis who is a patient in the Volunteer Hospital in Martin shows signs of some improvement, and might possibly get to go home some time this week. She has been hospitalized for several weeks in serious condition and friends will be glad to hear that she is now resting more comfortably at this time.

Farmers continue to pick the early corn, which has suffered from the blight all over the area. Some have wheat land broken in preparation of seeding. Other cover crops will follow soon. Hay making is in progress, and all will be saved for live stock.

CAYCE NEWS

By Miss Clarice Bondurant

Mrs. Blanche Menees has returned from several weeks' visit in Louisville with her daughter, Dorothy Louise, and family. She was accompanied home by Mrs. Dorothy Louise Browne and baby, Donna Louise, for a short visit.

Reverend and Mrs. John Britt spent last week in Lexington, Tenn., where he was the evangelist in a revival.

Mrs. James Dugan of near Chicago spent two weeks with her mother, Mrs. Mae Wall, and brother, Harold Hampton.

Dickie Cruce, who is in the U. S. Navy, spent the past two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Keithly Cruce. He is stationed in South Carolina.

He was accompanied back to his ship there by his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Pafford and son, David, have returned to their home after attending the funeral and burial of her mother, Mrs. Frankie McClellan, last week.

The Rush Creek Homemakers held their September meeting Wednesday at the home of Miss Clarice Bondurant with a nice group present.

We were sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Frankie McClellan last week. She was living at the home of her son, Lum McClellan, in Hickman, but had lived in the Cayce community for many years. We extend our deepest sympathy to her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Sloan and daughter, of Little Rock, Ark. spent last weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Sloan, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Sloan and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sloan spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lovie Underwood. He is a nephew of Mr. Sloan and is real sick at this writing.

Weekend guests of Mrs. Sam Austin Jones were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Asche of Memphis and Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Snow of Oklahoma City. Mrs. Snow was the former Miss Mary Ella Jones. Sunday dinner guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Harrison and Cindy, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Harrison and girls, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Jones and family of Fulton, Mrs. Charles Harrington and girls, and Mrs. Hubert Ellington and Dana of Union City, and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Jones and family.

PROTECT NEW STORED CORN

A cleaning up of storage areas is essential in protecting the stored corn crop. Do not store the new corn crop with last year's crop which usually is insect infested. Feed out or move the old crop to get rid of these grain pests. Then thoroughly sweep out the storage area. Finally spray the walls and floors of the storage area with an insecticide to kill the remaining insects.

The corn can further be protected by treating it directly with premium grade Malathion or Pyrethrin insecticides as it is stored. These treatments in no way affect the quality or usage of the grain. Five gallons of spray mix treats 1,000 bushels of grain. To make these sprays, use 1 pint of the 50 percent Malathion or 1 1/3 pints of 6 percent Pyrethrin liquid emulsions to each 5 gallons of spray. Apply the spray with garden or other sprayers as the grain is elevated into bins, or layer spray the grain. The corn must be shelled or shucked and well sprayed for the material to be effective. Special wheat-brand dusts of these materials also are available for control. If fumigation of grain is used for insect control, storage areas must be air-tight, otherwise fumigation is ineffective.

OBION COUNTY NEEDS CATTLE AND HOG BARN AT THE OBION COUNTY FAIR GROUNDS

During the Obion County Fair a tent 60 ft. wide and 240 feet long was used to house dairy cattle, beef cattle, and hogs. The tent was full.

We need cattle and hog barns at the fair grounds. HOW CAN WE GET THESE FACILITIES???

At the fair this year the large tent was completely filled with livestock.

LOOKING AHEAD

Looking ahead in farming and forecasting is a dangerous thing usually for a county agent but farmers might find it helpful and profitable. Corn prices have increased which means feed costs will be up for hog and cattle feeders. Look to the future and seed some wheat to feed next summer. Wheat has not been very profitable to grow recently, but we look for more to be used for hog and cattle feed next summer. Feeders can safely use in a mixed ration for beef cattle 30 percent wheat, dairy cattle 50 percent wheat and hogs 50 percent wheat.

SOYBEAN INSECTS

We have been asked quite often recently if the corn ear worm will bother the soybean fields in Obion County this year like they did in 1969. Most of the soybean fields are looking up quite good and we have not found corn ear worms in the soybean fields.

Our Entomologists warn that farmers should be on the look out for worms in soybeans fields because the worms may migrate from the drying up corn fields. Light infestations have been found in soybean fields south of Obion County.

Farmers should be urged to check their beans at least once each week. Place a sheet of newspaper between the rows and shake two row feet of beans. Do this in four or five areas of the field. If an average of one "worm" per two feet of row is found, then you should make an application.

Stink bugs can be checked in the same manner. If you have one stink bug per foot of row, start your application.

The corn earworm is the same insect as the bollworm.

Upcoming Mid-South Fair Lists Some 300 Free Acts

The 1970 Mid-South Fair could parody the old saw "the best things in life are free" and be on solid ground.

Once the fairgoer pays his or her way through the gates of the Fairgrounds there will be enough free acts to last him an entire day and then some.

For instance:
1. Youth Talent Contest—Daily performances (Sept. 25 - Oct. 1) in the air-conditioned Youth Center featuring more than 1,000 winners from preliminary contests throughout the Mid-South. Sponsored by WREC-AM & FM and WREC-TV and The Press Scimitar.
2. CIRCUS — All the thrills of the big top including the Pharoahs performing on the high wire, trapeze artist Miss Dianne, The Georgians precariously ride the perch pole high above the crowd, clowns, ponies, elephants and the whole shebang which guarantee entertainment for youngsters and oldsters. Brought in by The Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Memphis.

3. WESTERN STAMPEDE—Featuring the high diving mules plus pony, dog and monkey acts. Wagon races to bring back the nostalgia of the old west.

4. PETTING ZOO—Exotic animals from the far corners of the world, gathered together for the delight of the youngsters to view and pet. Co-sponsored by the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Memphis.

derstand the dilemma of the home-folks in attempting to make the proper decision when faced with the circumstances and the rank of visiting dignitaries.

Certainly Wendell Ford is not offended at what might appear, on the surface, as a lack of proper recognition for the second highest elected public official in the Commonwealth of Kentucky. He enjoyed himself very much. Of all the public officials who came to the Festival, Wendell Ford came the earliest and left the latest. Since becoming lieutenant-governor he has never missed a Festival, and I would say without fear of contradiction that if he becomes governor he will support and help finance the Festival as other Kentucky governors have done before him. He has already committed himself to that support.

If I may make a suggestion to the next chairman of the Governor's Day program I'd say that next year we should greatly limit the VIP status of our visiting dignitaries, for I am sure they would much rather be "one of the bunch," rather than be singled out for special limelight.

I would hope too that the International Relations program would be moved to another day and time when the crowds are large and the mood is gay. Never, but never should we have a distinguished speaker like our own Dr. Elvis Stahr address a hand full of people in a cavernous tent.

And of course, there MUST be another Festival. It is one of the greatest, most respected, most admired community activities in all America. The greatest problem we face in staging the Festival is that our very own people either cannot, or do not want to realize what we have in the Banana Festival, and what we can make of it in years to come, with the whole-hearted support of our entire community.

But we must not plan another Festival with things as they are. We must completely restructure the working apparatus of our organization. We must completely revitalize our program and give visitors and our people what they want to see and hear; to give them that feeling of Latin-American gaiety; and to give uncompromising dedication to our program, "Project-United Us."

We should start this planning now while our errors are fresh on our minds, and while it is time to say "bravo" to Dub Burnette, and that loyal band of people who sweat blood and tears to make the Festival what it is today, what it has been in the past, and what it will be in the future.

Last week was one of the busiest periods I have endured in many months. It was perhaps one of the saddest also.

Immediately following the last event of the Banana Festival in Fulton last week I received a message that my beloved niece, the oldest daughter of my oldest sister had died rather unexpectedly in New Orleans.

I could hardly think of my fatigued mind and body at the late hour Saturday, so completely grieved was I to realize that this brilliant and sensitively intellectual human being had died, leaving behind her six children and a saintly heritage of love and respect that will live as long as the youngest person who had the privilege to know and to love her.

She was scarcely 52 years old at the time of her passing. Her husband preceded her in death scarcely a year and a half ago, leaving her as the head of the household, a task that she performed with such dedication to duty and sincerity of purpose that the burdens may have shortened her life.

None of you knew her. Yet I know that there are people in your own circle of family and friends who are surely just as she was, and that is why I take the liberty to share my sorrow with you.

She was the kind of person you felt secure with, because she gave you confidence and courage. She was the kind of person whose saintliness inspired you to emulate her devotion to her church and her faith.

It is almost unbelievable to acknowledge that from the day she attained the age of reason she attended daily church services, and on those days when she was confined to the hospital and to her home prior to her death, she felt that a visit from her pastor was just as important as a visit from her physician.

During her last days on earth, when I am sure she knew the end was near, she talked not of her possible recovery but of the love and care she wished to establish for the loved ones she left behind.

She was as a close and favorite sister to me for I lived with her family from the time I was in the third grade until I graduated from high school.

She was just a few years younger than I am, but it was I who looked to her for help with my studies. She received every conceivable honor accorded a student during grammar and high school and college, even a citation from the French Government for her proficiency in the study of French.

My thanks go to all of you who were so nice to Joel (who delayed his college entrance to come over here Monday), to my daughter Mary Jo, who was "publisher for a day," and to Angela Mueller of Louisville who has joined the Courier as a staff reporter and feature writer ... and general all-around gal. My thanks always to Edna Earl and Helen.

I've been too busy to give poor Angie much instruction about her new job, or to tell you much about her, either. She is a graduate of the University of Kentucky with an English major and some journalism work. I think, yes, I detect it very strongly, that I won't have to battle the college theory of journalism with her, because she's a very bright gal. I'm hoping that we can get things in order so that she can do all those beautiful feature stories and interviews that are just hanging around all over here in Hickman.

with frustrations she barely understands.

Miss Bilkins was remarkable as an outcast rejected by her friends. She projected an eagerness to be accepted, a terrible loneliness when abandoned by society, and a yearning for fulfillment that was quite moving. William Forsythe was also impressive as the young man who eventually calmed her fears.

Frederick Ashton's "Facade" set to several movements from the irreverent score William Walton created for a series of poems by Edith Sitwell, brought the evening to a rollicking close. It pokes fun at the dances and the modes of dress of the 1920's, but with a lightness of touch that makes it superb satire. The company scampered through it with dazzling ease.

Recordings were used for the last two ballets. Earlier, pianist Neil Stannard (unfortunately not named on the program) played the Chabrier and Field piano scores beautifully, even heroically, considering he was struggling with a wretched small upright piano.

The appearance of Joffrey's II Company was sponsored by the Louisville Dance Council, with assistance from the Kentucky Arts Commission.

Miss Ann Boyd Thomas Marries John O. Fleming At Mayfield

Mr. and Mrs. John Owen Fleming are living in Murray following their marriage in the First United Methodist Church of Mayfield. The bride is the former Miss Ann Boyd Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Thomas of Mayfield, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Fleming Jr. of Route 4, Hickman.

The Rev. J.L. Leggett officiated at the afternoon ceremony and musical selections were presented by Mrs. Ted Hale, soloist, and Mrs. Marvin Hartsfield, organist. Potted palm, greenery formed the background for a sunburst arrangement of white gladioli, white snapdragons, chrysanthemums and daisy pompons with foliage flanked with branched candelabra with white tapers. Marking the family pews were clusters of daisy pomps and greenery tied with white satin ribbons.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gown in a design of white silk organza over silk taffeta. The demifitted empire bodice was fashioned with a Juliet neckline and long full sleeves with deep cuffs overlaid with Alencon lace. The entire bodice was adorned with re-embroidered appliques of the lace encrusted with seed pearls. The A-line skirt featured the lace motifs and her chapel train of organza fell from a beaded organza bow in the back. Her tiered, bouffant veil of silk illusion was caught to a headpiece of silk petals and florets. She carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies and gypsophila outlined with greenery, centered with a detachable orchid and tied with white satin ribbons.

Miss Kathy Sells of Valley Station, Ky., served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Ralph Thomas Jr. of Ft. Dix, N.J., sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. J.T. Boling of Bowling Green. They wore formal gowns of turquoise silk georgette with empire bodices defined with demifitted belts of braided satin in three hues of turquoise, ending in floor-length back streamers. Their long, full sleeves were cuffed at the wrists and their softly gathered skirts were gracefully poised over matching silk taffeta. Their headpieces were braided bandeaus of the tritoned taffeta with waist-length streamers. Each carried a nosegay of white and yellow daisy pompons and gypsophila interspersed with turquoise florets.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN OWEN FLEMING

Mr. Fleming served his son as best man. Ushers were Don Voegli of Fulton, Ralph Thomas Jr. of Ft. Dix, brother of the bride, George Burns of Hickman.

Mrs. Thomas selected for her daughter's wedding an aqua-colored tulle suit with matching accessories and a white cymbidium orchid.

Mrs. Fleming, mother of the bridegroom, chose a turquoise design complemented with matching lace trim, white accessories, and a white cymbidium orchid.

Following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained with a reception in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table, covered with a floor length cloth of off-white delustered satin, was caught at each corner with clusters of daisies tied with turquoise ribbon streamers. Silver branched candelabra held ivory tapers and arrangements of white daisy pomps and gypsophila tied with ribbons. The five-tiered wedding cake, encircled with flowers and greenery, was topped with a cluster of white wedding bells.

Assisting in serving were Miss Phyllis Myers, Miss Ellen Neely and Mrs. Ray Russell of Mayfield, Miss Alice Adams of Hickman, and Miss Connie Raley of Henderson, Ky.

They now are living at Shady Oaks Trailer Court in Murray where both are students at Murray State University. Among those from out of town for the wedding and reception were Mrs. Mary Wood and Mrs. Onnie Wood of St. Louis, Miss Linda Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Key Thomas of Louisville, Miss Connie Raley of Henderson, Ky., Miss Susan Minchey of Nashville, Miss Robbie Champion, Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Lacy and Edward Dement of Fulton, Mr. and Mrs. David Sullivan and Debbie of Southaven, Miss, Miss Treva Lynn True and Mr. and Mrs. P.H. Fleming of Union City.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thomas and Sidney Thomas of Clinton, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones Sr. and Richard Nesbitt of Murray, Mr. and Mrs. G.S. Strode and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Levan of East St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Howard, Miss Anglea Howard and Howard J. Howard of Farmington, Mr. and Mrs. W.G. Campbell and Gary of Paducah, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ross of Cayce, J.T. Boling Jr. of Bowling Green, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Van Hoosier, Jay and Allen Van Hoosier of Christney, Ind., Mrs. Ruby Hutchinson, Mrs. Doris Jones, Miss Alice Sowell, Miss Carol Fleming, Miss Alice Adams, Mrs. Owen Lacy, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest McMurray, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lacy, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garrigan, Mrs. George Burns, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Caldwell and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Everett Jr., all of Hickman.

Society Will Make Tour In Illinois

MURRAY, Ky.—The Jackson Purchase Historical Society will visit the "Land of Lincoln" in Illinois Oct. 3 on its annual tour by chartered bus.

Dr. Hunter Hancock, tour director and biology chairman at Murray State University, has asked that all reservations be made not later than Sept. 28.

The first stop will be at the Vandalia State House. The capital of Illinois was moved from a rented building in Kaskaskia to Vandalia in 1820. Abraham Lincoln served in the legislature, crossing the prairies between the Sangamon and the Kaskaskia on horseback or by stagecoach. On the corner of the State House ground is "The Madonna of the Trail," a monument to pioneer mothers and a gift of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Lincoln, leader of the "Lone Nine" (two senators and seven representatives averaging 200 pounds in weight and over 6 feet in height), was largely responsible for moving the capital to Springfield.

At Springfield the tourists will have box lunches at Lincoln Park, visit the Lincoln Tomb, Lincoln's Home, and the Marriage House. "We will see the Old State Capitol, which was completely restored and opened to the public in 1969," Dr. Hancock explained. Considered a perfect example of Greek Revival Architecture, it has been described as the "most historic building west of the Alleghenies."

From Springfield, the historians will travel 20 miles northwest to Lincoln's New Salem State Park. Lincoln lived at New Salem six years and it has been described as the turning point in his career.

The village of New Salem, located on a hill overlooking the Sangamon River, is reproduced in "flawless authenticity."

The last stop for the Kentucky visitors before returning will be the Clayville Stagecoach Stop at Pleasant Plains, Ill., 12 miles west of Springfield. Clayville Tavern, constructed about 1824, is a museum of the rural life of early Illinois. A buffet style dinner, made up of specialties and all home-cooked, will be served to the group in the Clayville Country Kitchen.

Mrs. John Kirksey, Paducah, is the new president of the Jackson Purchase Historical Society, an organization of more than 100 members in West Kentucky. Reservations for the Illinois tour may be mailed to Miss Margaret Heath, secretary, 1202 Maple Street, Benton, or to Dr. Hunter Hancock, 1107 Elm Extended, Murray.

Breakfast Honors Lynn McAdoo

A breakfast at the Holiday Inn in Fulton was a lovely pre-nuptial courtesy for Miss Lynn McAdoo Friday morning. Miss McAdoo and Ben Williamson III will exchange their wedding vows September 12 in the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Paul Mayhew and Mrs. Robert Seifert. Miss McAdoo chose a lovely ensemble, an aqua linen dress with a matching coat complemented with white accessories and a pink rosebud corsage. Her mother, Mrs. Robert McAdoo, was attired in a red knit dress with matching accessories and a white cymbidium orchid. Mrs. Mayhew wore an aqua knit jacket dress, while Mrs. Seifert was attired in an orange knit design accented with white trim.

Guests were seated at a table, covered with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink roses, carnations and white daisies. Each one wrote her favorite recipe on her place card and in turn presented it to the honoree, Miss McAdoo received gifts from the kitchen from the guests and the hostesses presented her with a Toast and Bake oven. Invited guests were Mrs. James Neely, Mrs. Lewis McAdoo, Mrs. Gene McAdoo, Mrs. Walker Tanner, Mrs. Bill Tanner, Miss Debbie Tanner, Mrs. David James and Miss Claudia Mayhew.

AN ESTIMATED 10,000 PERSONS TURNED OUT FOR BANANA FESTIVAL PARADE

Banana Time

The twin cities of Fulton, Ky., and South Fulton, Tenn., "went banana" as the annual Banana Festival reached its climax with a parade. One feature was a banana pudding made from 250 pounds of vanilla wafers, 850 pounds of boiled custard and 950 pounds of bananas. Most of the pudding was eaten and gone by the end of the day.

REIGNING OVER the festivities was the Banana Princess, Janet Porter, Humboldt, Tenn.

YOUNG AND OLD, munching away at portions of banana pudding, watched the parade.

HIGH STEPPERS — The Colonels Marching Band from Lone Oak High School was named best band in the AAA division at the Fulton Banana Festival Parade Saturday. Here, 115-member band goes through part of its routine on the parade route. Tommy Hughes, Lone Oak drum major, was judged the parade's best drum major.

Future Cloudy, Says GM&O Head

ST. LOUIS-- The Gulf, Mobile and Ohio Railroad has declared the regular 70 cent dividend on common stock for the third quarter, payable Sept. 14 to holders of record Aug. 24.

Also declared was the regular $1.25 dividend on preferred stock, payable March 22, 1971, to holders of record March 3, 1971.

Glen Brock, railroad president, said that while the company's cash position was strong and it had no liquidity problems, "distressing uncertainties" that face the entire industry are clouding the outlook for the remainder of the year.

He mentioned negotiations now in progress with all principal rail operating and non-operating unions, except shop crafts, as to wages and special benefits, retroactive to Jan. 1.

"A settlement probably will be reached before the end of 1970 and, although the terms have yet to be determined, the results in these inflationary times will undoubtedly have a drastic effect on operating expenses and, therefore, on our ordinary net income," said Mr. Brock.

South Fulton Defeated 39-7

"We played very poorly" was Coach Terry Beadles' comment about the South Fulton-Dyer County game Friday night in Newbern. The Red Devils were soundly defeated 39-7.

The Devils, now 1-1 after a 19-0 victory over Greenfield last week, had only one bright spot in the game when running back Darrell Williams returned a Dyer County punt 55 yards for South Fulton's only score.

Dyer County's big threat was Steve Henson, a 220-pound tailback who formerly was a split end.

UTM Expecting All-Time Record

A total enrollment of 4,600 is expected at the University of Tennessee at Martin when registration is completed Sept. 24, according to Henry C. Allison, dean of admissions and records.

The number of students anticipated to enroll during the fall quarter represents a more than 9 per cent increase over the 4,208 students enrolled during the fall of 1969.

A freshman class of approximately 1,650, the largest in the history of the institution, is expected to enroll. Orientation for incoming freshmen is set for Sept. 21-22.

Registration will be conducted Sept. 23-24 and classes begin on Sept. 25.

Squirrel Hunt Is Scheduled At Reelfoot

The annual squirrel hunt on Reelfoot National Wildlife Refuge will again be conducted on a split-season basis this year according to an announcement by Refuge Manager John DeLine, Kentucky. No permits are required. Hunting will be permitted on both the Tennessee and Kentucky portions of the refuge. Holders of valid Tennessee licenses will be restricted to lands lying in Tennessee while Kentucky licensed hunters must remain in Kentucky. No permits are required. The hunts will open at sunrise September 14 and continue until sunset Sept. 19. Areas will then be closed for eight days, reopening at sunrise Sept. 28 and continuing until sunset October 3.

The daily bag limit on squirrels shall be in accordance with state-wide regulations on both the Tennessee and Kentucky portions of the refuge. No limit on groundhogs and crows. Dogs must not be used. Hunters may use rifle, 22 caliber, or shotgun capable of holding no more than three shells.

Maps and complete hunt regulations may be obtained by contacting the refuge office at Samburg.

The annual hunts are conducted under an agreement between the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, the Tennessee Game and Fish Commission and the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. They are designed to provide outdoor recreation by permitting sportsmen to hunt non-migratory game on the refuge.

WARNING!

This Sears TOUCH-N-GO® 10-Speed Blender in White May be Unsafe...

Only Model 663.82235 in white, sold since last December, 1969, is affected. Check Model Number imprinted on label under blender.

In order to prevent injury to any user we are requesting the return of all blenders with this model number. This blender was sold primarily through the Sears 1970 Spring-Summer catalog. It also was sold through some Sears retail stores. THERE IS NO PROBLEM WITH ANY OTHER COLOR OR MODEL SEARS BLENDER.

We are not certain that any of those sold are unsafe. But an inspection of factory inventory found a small number of these blenders was improperly assembled, creating a potentially dangerous shock hazard under certain conditions.

If you have this model blender, please return it immediately to the nearest Sears store or catalog facility for exchange or refund.

Icelanders Retain Old Norse Tongue

By GORDON M. QUARNSTROM
REYKJAVIK: I am of Scandinavian descent and had a fair knowledge of Norwegian and Swedish as a youth, so I figured I would have a bit of an edge when it came to understanding Icelandic. But I have found out

MAJOR POINTS & MINOR, TOO

By GORDON M. QUARNSTROM
The Icelandic language, old Norse Viking, is the oldest unchanged language still spoken in the world today. Icelanders can easily read original versions of the sagas of the 12th and 13th Centuries, so it is no wonder I had trouble with the way they write and speak. I was informed by George McGrath of Icelandic Airlines.

"It's a good thing that English is so well understood, isn't it?" he asked. I had to agree. Icelanders are an industrious, handsome people descended from Viking warriors who settled the island in 874 A.D. Popular stories say they kidnapped the prettiest girls along the Irish and Scottish coasts for their wives, and this may be true. The attractive blondes, showing long legs in miniskirt attire, seem to verify this claim. In winter the days are short and the nights long. The people come to life during summer, when the sun shines past midnight, and it never really gets dark. It has been a thrill for this summer visitor to see the midnight sun. An Icelandic Airlines stopover is a wonderful treat, indeed!

Restaurants are excellent, featuring many Icelandic specialties such as smoked shark, dried stockfish, smoked salmon, numerous kinds of herring, smoked lamb and cream soups.

PLANNING A TRIP? Have reservations ahead, advises the Allstate Motor Club after hearing sad tales about many travelers who wound up with second rate housing because they hadn't made arrangements ahead of time.

MERELY MUSING: Experience is something you get too late to do anything about the mistakes you made while getting it. I heard some Korean folksongs, real Seoul music.

— Al Musser.

Area Utilities Hike Power Rates By 22%

Nearly all electric power systems on Tennessee Valley Authority lines in Western Kentucky have completed setting their new rates following the recent increase by TVA.

All reflect an approximate 22 per cent boost beginning in October.

Electric power users in the Mayfield and Murray areas continue to receive their power cheaper than other TVA users in the area. The two systems have used TVA power for many years.

There are nine electric power companies on TVA in Western Kentucky. Five including Paducah Power System, have approved new rate schedules and four have given either tentative approval to their new schedules or expected to do so shortly.

According to the TVA system, all power firms it supplies are given classifications and set their power rates accordingly. The rates depend upon the classification and will be the same from one system to another.

The Paducah Power System is classified R2 and C2 this year. This reflects no change in classification. The "R" stands for residential and "C" for commercial.

Classifications for other systems include: Western Kentucky RECC of Mayfield, R2; Benton Electric R3; Fulton Electric, R; Hickman Electric R2; Hickman-Fulton County REA, R; Mayfield Electric, R5; Murray Electric, R6; and Princeton Electric, R2.

band into our office computer, and for a whole day it was making snap decisions. I'm still wondering why it takes a pitcher so darned long to throw the ball; he looks and looks and looks at the catcher's finger signals in the darkness of his crouch, and the spectators nearly go to sleep. What a waste of time!

— Don I. Frankel.

GAME OF THE NAME: Venus Wallace of Denton, N. C., offers a fascinating Name Game, which she calls "What's My Line". M. E. Gardner is in the Dept. of Horticultural Science at N.C. State U. Gordon Halfacre is a N.C. extension horticulturist. Dr. Fred

Fish is with the N.C. Dept. of Fisheries. . . and George E. Rose heads the All America Rose Selection Team!

HOW'S THAT AGAIN?

Watch for wider belts for men. Makers of suits and slacks, recognizing the trend, have designed many of their newer garments with cookie crumbs, 3/4 cup of chopped walnuts, 1/2 cup each of sour cream and sifted sugar.

— San Rafael, Calif., Journal-Independent.

Household Hint from the Norman Transcript: "Freeze frosted cakes (whole or cut) unwrapped until the frosting has set, then wrap a seal."

The commercial classification is generally the same as the residential classification. Only the rates differ.

The TVA schedule begins at R as the highest rate and goes through R6 and the cheapest rate.

The rates, according to classifications, for this coming year:

R-4.0 cents for the first 75 kilowatt hours; 3.0 cents for the next 150 kilowatt hours; 1.34 cents for the next 275 kw hours; and 0.94 cents for excess over 500 kw hours.

R2-3.65 cents for the first 75 kw hours; 2.50 for the next 150 kw hours; 1.28 cents for the next 275 kw hours; and 0.92 for the excess over 500 kw hours.

R3-3.50 cents for the first 75 kw hours; 2.35 for the next 150 kw hours; 1.25 cents for the next 275 kw hours; and 0.91 for the excess over 500 kw hours.

R5-3.15 cents for the first 75 kw hours; 2.15 cents for the next 150 kw hours; 1.19 for the next 275 kw hours; and 0.89 for the excess over 500 kw hours.

R6-2.95 for the first 75 kw hours; 2.05 for the next 150 kw hours; 1.16 for the next 275 kw hours; and 0.88 for the excess over 500 kw hours.

Only two power systems have had, or expect to have, their classification changed.

The Fulton Electric Co. and the Hickman-Fulton County REA are changing from R1 to R. R is the highest classification possible.

LABOR SHORTAGE: I asked my 4-year-old son, Johnny, what he would like for his birthday next month. He asked me if he could have a little sister as a gift.

"But one month is too short to make a sister," I said.

"Hire more men," said Johnny triumphantly.

— Dr. Mira Aghi in Chicago Daily News.

EAGER BEAVER: Though fortune may smile on a few of us—she laughs herself silly at most of us. . . If you think the younger generation isn't interested in getting ahead wait until one of them pulls up alongside of you in a car at a stop light. . .
